1 Introduction

A long sentence with an e.g. inserted. Notice how spacing differs for e.g. in contrast to e.g. in contrast to e.g. and never use the first variant.

A new paragraph. Use empty lines, not backslashes to create a new paragraph. Backslashes only introduce a new line.

Some citations: cite gives you name and year without parantheses Köhn 2018, parencite is for giving a source for a statement (Köhn and Köhn 2018) and textcite use used when you write about a source such as “Köhn (2015) proposed something weird”. Let’s also refer to Table 1 and Figure 1.
